Our institution also offers M.phil and Ph.D. guidance in Hindi and Gujarati to students willing to pursue higher studies.

We follow the above-mentioned syllabi decided by Veer Narmad South Gujarat University, Surat to which our college is affiliated. All these programmes run by our college at UG and PG level prove to be an important factor for the multifarious development of our students.

Gujarati is offered as core and elective subject at UG and principal at PG level. We belong to Gujarat state and our most of the students also speak Gujarati for communication. We have a rich heritage and culture which we make them follow with the help of teaching Gujarati language. Our great writers have contributed a lot to Gujarati literature and Indian literature in general. We want to make them acquainted with this treasure of Gujarat.

Hindi is offered as core and elective subject at UG and principal at PG level. Hindi is our national language and it is spoken as a common medium of communication throughout the nation. So it helps our students express themselves in an effective way in Hindi. We have a rich heritage and culture reflected in Hindi literature which can be maintained through the teaching of this subject. Our great writers have contributed a lot to Hindi literature and world literature in general. Our students are familiarized with this treasure of the nation through the medium of this language.

Sanskrit is offered as core and elective subject at UG and principal at PG level. Sanskrit is the classical language of India which is a treasure of knowledge full of Vedas, enriched with Shlokas recited in various rituals. It is the source of all languages of the world. Unless someone knows Sanskrit, he or she will not be able to get the clear perspective of the Geeta, the Upnishadas, the Ramayan, the Mahabharat and many other valuable scriptures. Thus, Sanskrit is the true identity of Bharatvarsh. This is one of the main reasons to make Sanskrit literature the significant part of our syllabus.

English is also offered as core and elective subject at UG and principal at PG level. It is also taught as a foundation course to the students of other subjects. We have included English in our syllabus as it is the language of International Communication and Correspondence. It provides the job opportunities on a very vast scale. No other language can take the place of English in the use of Information Technology, Digitalization of various fields, career skills, competitive exams, social media etc. Thus, the syllabus at UG and PG level is incomplete without English.

Economics is also offered as core and elective subject at UG and principal at PG level. The understanding of Economics gives our students information about prevailing trends in our nation and in the world. The information regarding economics is important in the daily lives of our poor students also. It makes them able to utilize their little income to get the maximum satisfaction for family by proper budgeting and careful spending. This increases the happiness of the family.

Psychology is offered as an elective subject in the faculty of Arts at UG level. The study of Psychology develops in our students the understanding of their own behavior, emotions and ideas. The principles of Psychology teaches them to assess, evaluate and provide solutions to all unwanted emotional situations in life. The students can also pursue Psychology as their main profession by becoming counselor or mentor.

Sociology is offered as core subject in the faculty of Arts at PG level. Through the study of Sociology our students understand the way how society is organized around power structures, groups and individuals. The subject is important for our students because it keeps them up-to-date on modern situations, it contributes to the solution of community problems, it adds to the knowledge of society, it helps the individual find his relation to society, and ultimately it moulds them into good citizens.

Accountancy is offered as core subject in the faculty of Commerce at UG level. It familiarizes our students with a vital role of this subject in running a business. It also helps them how to track income and expenditures in making business decisions. In their academic career also it helps them to calculate how much money they need to save for the uncertain study expenses and how they can generate money for those kinds of expenses. In this way, accountancy also teaches our students to overcome their financial trouble

Business administration is offered as core subject in the faculty of Commerce at UG level program. It helps the students learn the fundamentals of business including finance, human resources, marketing, and management. It also teaches the students how to lead and motivate people, communicate effectively, and think critically.

We also teach Mercantile Law in Commerce through which the students understand the laws relating to trades, industry and all kinds of business transactions in commerce. This Law is essential to the students who want to be businessmen in future. It helps them to avoid conflicts with the persons with whom they come into business contacts.

Banking is offered as an Elective subject in the faculty of Commerce at UG level program. The students come to know how the banks perform its significant role in the economy of the country, the process of deposit and lending them out. It also gives them information how banks are connected with an individual in his everyday life in various ways.

Statistics is offered as an Elective subject at UG level program. It is very important for our students as it helps in collecting, presenting analysis and interpreting data. It also helps in drawing general conclusions in our everyday life.

Secretarial Practice is offered as an Elective subject in the faculty of Commerce at UG level program. The course teaches the students to know and understand the modern office procedures and practices and help them in developing the skills required for maintaining and handling of office records and information. This subject helps the students to handle the offices in the most modern and skilled manner. It offers jobs in various fields of commerce and business.

We also offer various inter-disciplinary subjects like Environmental Studies, Population Education, Family Studies, Principles of Literary Criticism, Human Rights, Linguistics, Impact of Modernization on Literature, Impact of Literature on Society And Culture and Cultural Psychology. Through interdisciplinary studies our students discover the value of integrating the study of various academic disciplines suited to their life-long interests. 'Environmental Studies' teaches our students creative solutions to some of today's most challenging problems like pollution, global warming, deforestation, climate change etc. The 'Family Studies' offers them the study of various patterns relating to family life. The subject 'Impact of Modernization on Language and Literature' explains how the Gujarati literature comes under the influence of modernization. The subject 'Population Education' makes students aware of the problems of population, family planning and abolition of misunderstanding relating to the birth of babies. 'Literary Criticism' as an inter-disciplinary subject makes our students acquainted with the history and trends of criticism from Plato to T. S. Eliot. 'The Cultural Psychology' relates how culture influences psychological processes. It is the study of rules, roles, groups, relationships and cultural norms and how they influence the behavior. 'Human Rights' education aims to enhance the knowledge and understanding of human rights and how to foster the attitudes of tolerance, responsibility and ultimately to become a noble citizen of our nation.
